

Frontline exWatch

Gain a clear understanding of your business partner network with exWatch - identify where third party vulnerabilities may lie before they can have an adverse impact on your business.

By analysing security incidents and practices along with applying sophisticated algorithms based on externally observable, non intrusive data and methods, exWatch generates objective and quantifiable findings to identify an organisations security rating.

You are only as strong as your weakest link...

With more and more companies outsourcing various elements of their business processes, the number of 3rd parties who have some level of access to your business can start to spiral. Managing vendor 'risk' is critical to ensuring your own company's security position.

exWatch is an automated tool that can continuously measure and monitor the cyber security performance of vendors and highlight any potential issues before they impact your business.

Introducing exWatch

exWatch takes information from publically available services and provides a rating for your key business partners. Security ratings are update daily and in addition to ratings, historic trends, compromised systems and diligence details, industry peer comparisons and more are available.

With the ability to drill down into the security details used to generate an organisations rating, you can:

- Have data driven conversations with vendors about their security position
- Make informed business decisions based on independently verified cyber security data
